2009 CABERNET SAUVIGNON
Napa Valley

Typically when speaking of Cabernet, and especially Cabernet from Rutherford, we speak of the black fruit flavors of blackberries, cassis, and black currants. With our 2009 release, however, we find a lot of our descriptors heading in the direction of red fruits, maybe even purple fruits, ripe plums, elderberries and ruby red cherries all with very supple tannins and lovely acidity.

Aromas of cassis and currant combine with a mineral tone and a touch of warm spices right out of the glass. Flavors of blackberry, pepper and vanilla are picked up as the wine builds to a lush mid-palate and then yields to a long, clean finish with soft, resolved tannins.

John Williams consistently grows one of the most compelling cabernets on the valley floor—without ever irrigating his organically farmed vines. His 2008 is elegant and refined, a cabernet that's not afraid to show some varietal notes of tobacco and herb, along with black cherry and cranberry flavors. It's complex and youthfully tannic, all woven into a seamless finish. This should age with

It's an elegant cabernet, the fruit transparent enough to show the character of Rutherford through the lens of woodland strawberries and red and black currants. Delicious on release, this gets better with air, as it will in bottle. A wine to cellar for ten years and enjoy along the way with lamb.

"An absolutely classic style of wine that may or may not be the most concentrated in the knot, but the aroma is classic Napa with herbs and dried cherries. The mid-palate is silky and has only moderate tannins, and there's an elegant food-friendly finish. It's a wine not unlike the great Cabs of the 1970s in style."
